

Index

- Abd al-Kader, 77
Abkhazia, 9, 124, 169, 172
Abrechestvo, 21
Abubakarov, Sayid-Muhammad, 82
Adygeya, 86, 87
Afghanistan, 12, 78, 97, 151–152
 and Central Asian security, 177
 Chechen relations, 188–189
 drug trade in, 77, 133, 178
 post-Soviet period, 11
 Russian military experience in, 103, 125
 Russian–Northern Alliance relations, 161–162, 188
 Soviet campaign in, viii, 6–7, 190 support for Islamic radical movements from, 189–190
 Taliban regime, 2, 4, 8, 75, 94, 98, 166, 168, 188–190, 200
 U.S. anti-Taliban military action, 44, 45, 124, 126, 162, 177–178, 209
 U.S. support for anti-Soviet Islamic resistance, 79, 117, 200
Akhtayev, Ahmed-kadi, 81
Albania, 166–167
Algeria, 3, 5, 218
Aliyev, Haydar, 173
Amanpour, Christiane, 66
Amirov, Said, 85
Ansar Ash-Shari'a, 190
Arbatov, Aleksey, 38
Armenia, 9, 133, 169, 174
 armed forces, 177
Aslakhonov, Aslambek, 43
Astrakhan, 4, 52
Aushev, Ruslan, 55–56, 85, 87, 91, 152
Aussaresses, Paul, 218
Avturkhanov, Umar, 20, 25
Azerbaijan, 9, 11, 169, 203
 armed forces, 177
 effects of Chechen–Russian conflict, 169–170
 emigration patterns, 179
 Islamic extremism in, 99–100
 regional alliances and cooperation, 170
 Russian security policy, 129, 130, 173, 174, 187–188
 and Turkey, 183

- Babayev, Tofik, 100
 Babichev, Ivan, 152
 Babitsky, Andrei, 142
 Baranov, Valery, 122
 Barayev, Arbi, 30, 42
 Barsukov, Mikhail, 27, 113
 Baryatinsky, 139
 Basayev, Shamil, 3, 9, 36, 82, 83, 95, 113, 117, 128, 194, 204
 Budennovsk hostage situation, 23, 24
 Dagestan invasion, 34–35
 foreign financial support, 93–94
 and Maskhadov, 30, 33–34
 Russian relations, 23, 24
 Bashkortostan, 4, 8, 12, 91
 response to Chechen conflict, 54
 Bayramova, Fauziya, 55, 90
 Belarus, 7–8, 11, 195
 Berezovsky, Boris, 23, 59, 135, 147, 153, 171
 Bin Laden, Osama, 94, 189–190
 Border issues, 132–133
 Putin administration policies, 171
 Russian policies during Chechen conflict, 171, 173, 176
 Brezhnev, Leonid, 79
 Brzezinski, Zbigniew, 10, 198–199
 Budanov, Yuri, 142–143
 Budennovsk hostage situation, 23, 24, 52–53, 113, 135, 204
 Buryatia, 54
 Bush (G. W.) administration, 198
- Caspian region
 development of Russian policy, 9–10
 Russia's Greater Caucasus model, 173–174
- Caucasus. See North Caucasus; South Caucasus
- Central Asia
 Chinese policy, 205–206
 Eurasianist model of Russian interests, 201–203 future challenges for Russia, 4
 in Greater Middle East, 179–180
 Islamic extremists in, 2, 13, 122
 military forces, 177
 population movements, 179
 post-Soviet development of Russian policy, 8, 11, 13
 Putin administration security policy, 120, 180 relations with Russia during Chechen conflict, 173–176
 revisionist history of Russian relations, 150–151
 Russian military casualties in, 157
 Russian military deployments in, 129–130, 131
 Russian military-political alliances, 160–161, 177–178
 Soviet strategy and relations, 5
 support for Chechnya, 98–99
 and Turkey, 183
 U.S. interests, 198–199, 200, 203, 204
 See also specific country
- Central Treaty Organization, 5
- Chechen domestic politics
 current status, 40–41
 democratization trends, 75
 future prospects, 43–44
 immediate post-Soviet period, 19, 20
 internal conflicts, 20–21, 30
 Islamic project in, 74–76, 88
 Kadyrov appointment, 36–37
 Maskhadov presidency, 13
 origins of Chechen–Russian conflict, 17, 20–21

- during peace period, 28–30
- religious context, 30–33
- sociocultural factors in, 15, 21
- Chechen–Russian conflict
 - and Afghanistan, 188–190
 - Arab government policies, 190–191, 192–195
 - casualties, 141–142, 156–158, 164
 - Chechen sociocultural factors in, 15–16
 - and China, 205
 - current state, 13–14, 42, 49
 - and Dagestan invasion, 35
 - ethnic component, 2, 46–47, 60–61
 - European response, 195–197, 198
 - first Russian campaign, 1, 2, 12, 13, 21–27, 28, 50, 57–58, 104–105, 106–110, 115, 119, 124, 131, 133, 136, 141, 145, 152–153, 156–157, 158, 163
 - foreign fighters in Chechen resistance, 96–99, 192
 - foreign financial support for Chechnya, 93–94
 - future prospects, 43–44, 49, 228
 - historical background, 4–12
 - human rights violations in, 141–143, 144, 209–223
 - individual self-interest in, 16–17
 - information flow, 145–148
 - international Islamic support for Chechnya, 91–99, 188–189
 - and Iran, 186, 187
 - Islamic Conference policy, 191–192
 - Islamic factor, 25, 63, 72, 73–74, 79–90, 101
 - legal status of Russian intervention, 142, 212–215
 - media portrayals, 66–67
 - military forces and strategies, 121–127, 129, 131–132, 133, 136–138
 - non-Ministry of Defense Russian military units in, 112–114
 - opportunities for avoiding, 22, 26
 - origins, 17–21, 46–47
 - period between Russian campaigns, 27–30
 - policies and actions of regional governments, 54–56, 168–178
 - rebel training camps, 94–96
 - regional support for Chechnya, 80–81, 82–83, 123–124, 172–173
 - regional support for Russia, 159–162, 173–174
 - and Russian domestic politics, 1, 13, 57–59
 - Russian expectations at outset, 57
 - Russian military goals, 118–121, 154–155
 - Russian military morale, ix, 138–141, 163
 - Russian military structure and functioning, ix, 41–43, 115–118, 133–136, 163, 164
 - and Russian Muslim population, 88–91
 - and Russian national security policy, 103, 104
 - Russian public opinion, 49–54, 56, 58, 63, 65, 68–69, 155, 157, 164
 - Russian spending, 158, 164
 - Russia’s relations with opposition groups within Chechnya, 23, 24–25
 - and Russia–Western relations, viii, 2, 3
 - second Russian campaign, 1, 3, 12, 13, 35–38, 50, 56, 58–59, 105, 111, 119, 122, 124, 131–132, 133, 136–

- 137, 138, 141, 153–154, 158, 163, 164, 168, 171, 173 significance of, for Russia, vii–ix, 1–4, 13–14, 47–48, 49, 67–69, 165, 170
 and terrorism, 46, 63–64
 Turkish policy and practice, 183–184, 185
 U.S. response, 198–200
 Western–Russian relations, 115, 116
- Chechnya
 cost of reconstruction, 158–159
 current economy, 39
 declaration of independence, 10–11, 13, 17
 demographics, vii, 16
 immediate post-Soviet period, 17–21
 regional relations, 33, 47, 52–53
 revisionist history of Russian relations, 149–150
 Russian population in, 21, 179
 sociocultural characteristics, 15–16
See also Chechen domestic politics;
 Chechen–Russian conflict
- Cherkesov, Viktor, 153–154
- Chernomyrdin, Viktor, 24, 25, 26, 135
- China, 99
 Central Asian security concerns, 205–206
 Chechen policy, 205
 Russian relations, 165, 206–207
- Christian religions, viii
 historical development in Russian region, 4–5
 Russian Muslim perceptions of, 63
- Chuvashia, 54, 55
- Clinton administration, 198, 199
- Cold War, 5–6
- Collective Security Treaty, 159, 176
- Commonwealth of Independent States, 9, 11, 132–133 military cooperation, 159, 160
 relations during Chechen–Russian conflict, 168–178
- Communist Party in Chechnya, 25
- Communist Party in Russia, 25, 152
- Conscription, 68, 107–108, 140
- Conventional Forces in Europe treaty, 130
- Cossacks, 52–53, 148–149
- Council of Europe, 142, 196, 197
- Crimea, 4, 7
- Criminal acts
 appropriation of Russian financial aid, 37–38 Chechen terrorists and, 3
 drug trade, 77, 133, 178
 and Islamic extremist activities, 77
 in post-Soviet Chechnya, 11, 19, 21
 by Russian military, 41, 142–144
- Czarist Russia, 4
- Dagestan, 74
 proposed unification with Chechnya, 82–83
 radical Islamism in, 81–83, 85, 87
- Dagestan invasion, 1–2, 12, 34–35, 96, 168
 and Russian domestic politics, 35–36
 Russian military response, 112
 and Russian national security policy, 117
- Danilevsky, Nikolai, 196
- Demirel, Suleyman, 56
- Democratic processes in Chechnya, 75
- Democratic processes in Russian Federation

- and Russian military
 - organization, 105
 - significance of Chechen conflict, 2–3
- Demographics
 - Chechnya, vii, 16
 - implications for Russian military capability, 131
 - Islamic population of Russian Federation, vii, 181–182
 - North Caucasus, 16, 61
 - population movements, 179
 - radical Islamists in North Caucasus, 85–86
 - Russia, vii, 2, 181–182
 - Russian Federation, 11–12
 - Russian population in Chechnya, 21, 61–62, 179
 - trends, 181–182
- Dobayev, Igor, 86
- Drug trade, 77, 133, 178
- Dudayev, Alla, 53
- Dudayev, Johar, 10–11, 13, 16, 30–31, 55, 56, 74, 122
 - coup attempts against, 20
 - death of, 27
 - first Russian campaign against, 24–26, 57, 122
 - in immediate post-Soviet period, 17–21
 - origins of Russian–Chechen conflict, 22
- Dugin, Alexander, 201
- Dyatlov, Viktor, 60
- Economy of Chechnya, 54
 - current functioning, 39
 - foreign financial support for separatists, 93–94
 - Russian financial aid, 37–38, 54, 158–159
- Egypt, 5, 191
- Erbakan, Nedjmeddin, 167, 184–185
- Estonia, 176
- Ethnic relations
 - future challenges for Russian Federation, 4
 - North Caucasus, 16
 - origins of Chechen conflict, 2, 46–47, 60–61
 - post-Soviet development, viii, 2, 12
 - Russian bias against Caucasian peoples, 60–62, 68
 - Russian population in Chechnya, 21, 61–62
- European–Russian relations, 3, 142, 195–197, 226
 - post-Soviet period, 7
 - Yeltsin national security policy, 116
- Fathi, Khabib Ali, 96
- Federal Agency of Government Communication and Information (FSK), 113, 136
- Federal Security Service, 13, 21, 40, 135, 136
 - control over Russian military in Chechnya, 42–43, 113–114
- Fedorov, Boris, 51
- Fedorov, Nikolai, 55
- Financial aid
 - as alternative to military conflict, 54
 - foreign financial support for Chechen separatists, 93–94
 - Russian funds for Chechen redevelopment, 37–38, 54, 158–159
- Franks, Tommy, 202
- Furman, Dmitri, 15

- Gantamirov, Bislan, 20, 37
 Gareyev, Makhmut, 137, 151, 201
 Gaynutdin, Ravil, 90
 Gedeon, Metropolitan, 53
 Gelayev, Ruslan, 39, 95, 123, 172
 Georgia, 9, 97–98
 armed forces, 177
 effects of Chechen–Russian
 conflict, 169–170, 172
 emigration patterns, 179
 regional alliances and cooperation, 170, 174
 Russian security policy, 120, 123–
 124, 129, 130, 172–173, 174
 and Turkey, 183
 Gonchar, Nikolai, 54
 Gorbachev, Mikhail, 103–104
 Gordin, Yakov, 64, 65
 Govorukhin, Stanislav, 52–53
 Grachev, Pavel, 27, 57, 107, 108, 109,
 110, 125, 127, 152, 194
 Gromov, Boris, 152, 154
 GUAM, 170, 202
 Gulf War (1990–91), 5, 124
 Gusinsky, Vladimir, 146–147
 Gusseyinov, Suret, 82
- Human rights abuses, 223–224
 media portrayals, 66
 against noncombatants, 209–212,
 216, 219, 220–223
 Russian war crimes liability in Chechnya, 141–143, 144,
 215–220
 and Russian–European relations, 197
 treatment of prisoners of war,
 220–221, 222–223
 Huntington, Samuel, 63
- Ibrahim al-Ibrahim Foundation, 92
- Ichkeria, 28, 72
 Ilyasov, Stanislav, 41
 India, 165, 168, 193
 Ingushetia, 55–56, 85
 radical Islamism in, 34, 86, 87–88
 Russian security policy, 120, 123
 International Association of Islamic Appeal, 92
 International Charity Organization
 Taiba, 92
 International Criminal Court, 198
 International Islamic Rescue
 Organization, 92–93
 Iran, 5, 6, 75, 79, 117, 166, 180, 181,
 182, 186–188
 Iraq, 5, 126–127, 168, 181, 191, 210
 Ireland, 3
 Islam
 Arab countries, 5
 Chechen population, vii
 concept of Islamic state, 71 and development of first Russian– Chechen conflict, 25 and future of Russia foreign relations, 180, 181–182
 and future of Russian society, 227– 228 historical development in Russian region, 4–7, 8, 11–12, 13, 62 ideological differences within, 6
 in Iran, 186
 and Islamic radicalism, 83–85
 Islamic support for Chechen
 seperatists, 47, 91–99, 191–192 Muslim soldiers in Russian military, 144–145
 political nature of, 71–72, 73
 prospects for Islamic state, 74–76, 88
 Russian attitudes toward, 62–64, 68, 193

- Russian population, vii, 181–182
 significance of, in Russian–Chechen conflict, 25, 63, 72, 73–74, 79–90, 101
 significance of Russian–Chechen conflict for, 72
 Tolstoy on, 65
 trends, viii
 in Turkey, 184–185
See also Islamic extremism
- Islamic Center, 93
 Islamic Conference, 191–192
 Islamic extremism
 in Central Asia, 2, 11, 13, 176–177
 and Cold War, 6
 coordination among groups, 99
 and Dagestan invasion, 34–35
 future prospects, 101–102
 historical development in Russian region, 13
 historical development of U.S. policy, 6 and Islamic political project, 74–76
 New Muslim movement, 86–87
 in North Caucasus, 80–83, 84–88, 91–93
 origins and development, 2, 76–80, 88
 during period between Chechen wars, 30–33
 Putin administration policies, 56
 rationale, 71–72
 regional cooperation against, in Russia’s southern frontier, 176–177
 regional support for Chechnya, 80–81, 82–83
 religious basis, 83–85
 and Russian domestic politics, 60
 and Russian national security, viii, 117, 124, 166, 167, 168
- Russian perceptions, 62, 77–79, 124
 in South Caucasus, 99–101
 support from Afghanistan, 189–190
 ties to criminal organizations, 77, 178
 U.S. antiterrorism campaign, 12 and Western–Russian relations, 203
See also Islam
- Islamic Movement of Uzbekistan, 98, 117, 122
 Islamic Renaissance Party, 74
 Islom Diniv Kharakati, 99
 Israel, 5, 168, 193–194, 203
 Israpilov, 33
 Ivan the Terrible, 4
 Ivanov, Igor, 97, 143
 Ivanov, Sergei, 118, 153–154
- Jamal, Heidar, 74
 Japan, 165
 Jordan, 191, 200
 Juin, Alphonse, 216
- Kabardino-Balkeria, 85, 86, 87
 Kadar area, 34
 Kadyrov, Ahmad-Haji, 32, 43, 44, 143 appointment of, 36
 current status of government, 39–41 policies, 38–39
 political support for, 36–37
 Kalamanov, Vladimir, 38, 142, 197–198
 Kalmykia, 54
 Karachayevo-Cherkessia, 85, 86, 87
 Kazakhstan, 4, 11, 56, 203
 armed forces, 177

- Russian population, 179
 Russian security policy, 120, 129, 131, 133, 159–160, 171, 174
 Kazan, 4
 Kazantsev, Viktor, 37, 44, 131, 152, 154
 Keegan, John, 222
 Khachilayev, Nadirshah, 82
 Khadzhiev, Salambek, 25
 Khalimov, Islam, 30, 93
 Khamza, Abu, 190
 Khanafism, 84
 Kharrazi, Kamal, 191
 Khasbulatov, Ruslan, 141–142
 Khattab, 42, 83, 96, 97, 117
 foreign financial support, 93–94
 rebel training camps, 94–95
 Khizb at-Tahir al-Islamiy, 98
 Khodorkovsky, Mikhail, 194–195
 Khudoyberdiev, Mahmud, 176
 Khultygov, Lecha, 32
 Khusainov, A. V., 30
 Kiriyyenko, Sergei, 155
 Kizlyar hostage situation, 26, 27
 Korzhakov, Alexander, 27
 Kosovo, 112, 117, 145–146, 166–167, 195
 Kovalev, Sergey, 26
 Kozyrev, Andrei, 9, 117, 186
 Krasnodar, 52
 Kulakov, Vladimir, 154
 Kulikov, Anatoli, 152, 153
 Kunta-Haji, 31
 Kurdish people, 185
 Kurginian, Sergey, 79
 Kuwait, 93, 192
 Kvashnin, Anatoli, 37, 110–111, 112, 114, 131, 152, 154–155
 Kyrgyzstan, 4, 11, 117, 168, 205–206
 drug trade in, 178
 military capacity, 161
 regional alliances and cooperation, 170
 Russian population, 179
 Russian security policy, 120–121, 129, 131, 159–160, 176
 Latvia, 176
 Lebed, Alexander, 28, 54, 57–58, 110, 152, 153
 Lermontov, Mikhail, 64, 65
 Lezghin, 100
 Libya, 5, 181, 191
 Lieven, Anatol, 166
 Lobov, Oleg, 27, 110
 Lukin, Vladimir, 26
 Luzhkov, Yuri, 35, 58, 91, 120, 155
 Macedonia, 167
 Madzhidov, M., 95
 Mahdi, 77
 Maksakov, Ilya, 86
 Manilov, Valery, 43, 147–148, 154
 Maskhadov, Aslan, 13, 28, 74, 97, 188, 189, 192
 and Basayev, 30, 33–34
 and diversion of Russian financial aid, 37–38 election to presidency, 29–30 and Islamic movement in Chechnya, 30–31, 32–33, 34
 negotiations of 2001, 44–45
 regional relations, 55–56, 90–91
 relations with Russia, 29–30, 122
 Mass media, 66–67, 145–147
 Massoud, Ahmad-Shah, 161, 187, 188, 189
 Masyuk, Yelena, 66
 Medzhiev, A.-M., 30
 Meshkov, Yuri, 175
 Middle Eastern countries, 168
 Central Asian relations, 179–180

- in future of Russia, 165
- Russian relations, 191–195, 202
- Soviet strategy and relations, 5–6
- Military, Russian
 - alliances in Central Asia, 160–161
 - anti-Chechen sentiment in, 64
 - attacks on Chechen civilians by, 209–212
 - command and control, 133–136, 140, 141
 - criminal behavior in, 41, 142–144
 - in Dagestan, 35
 - deployment patterns, 128–132
 - failures of first Chechen campaign, 106–107, 108–110, 113, 121, 134, 154, 163, 164
 - Federal Security Service control over, 42–43, 113–114, 134–135
 - first Chechen campaign, 21, 22–27, 121–122, 131, 141, 163
 - forces and strategies in Chechnya, 121–127, 129, 131–132, 136–138
 - media reporting on, 146–147
 - morale, ix, 138–141, 163
 - Muslim soldiers in, 144–145
 - non-Ministry of Defense units, 112–114, 133–134
 - nuclear doctrine, 127–128
 - during period between campaigns, 28
 - political environment, 26–27, 151–156
 - post-Soviet development, 8, 103–106, 114–115, 118–119
 - second Chechen campaign, 131–132, 141, 163, 164
 - spending, 138, 139, 155, 158, 164
 - status of Chechnya veterans, 62
 - troop reductions of 2001, 42–43
 - war crimes liability in Chechen operations, 141–144
 - Yeltsin reforms, 107–108, 110–111, 116, 134
 - See also* Russian national security policy
- Mitrofanov, Alexei, 22
- Moldova, 11, 170
- Moltenskoi, Vladimir, 211
- Moscow apartment bombing, 36, 58, 64
- Moscow theater hostage crisis, 2, 114
- Muhammad, Bagauddin, 34, 81, 83
- Muridism, 84
- Murtazaliyev, Omar, 190
- Mutawaquil, Waqil Ahmad, 189
- Namangani, Juma, 98, 122
- Nazarbayev, Nursultan, 56
- Nazran agreement, 27, 28
- Negotiations for settlement
 - early opportunities, 22, 26
 - future prospects, 43–44
 - involvement of regional leaders, 55–56
 - Nazran agreement, 27, 28
 - Russian military opposition to, 152–153
 - significance of Chechen Islamic movements, 33
 - and U.S. military action in Afghanistan, 44–45
- Nemtsov, Boris, 120, 157
- Nevzorov, Alexander, 66
- Nikolayev, Andrei, 10, 113
- Nikonov, Gennady, 137
- North Atlantic Treaty Organization, 2, 112, 115, 116, 117, 118, 198, 204–205
 - and countries of Russia's southern border, 170
 - and Russia's Greater Caucasus security policy, 173, 174

- North Caucasus
- Chechen relations, 33, 47
 - demographics, 16
 - effects of Chechen–Russian conflict, 169
 - ethnic strains within Russian society, 60–62, 68
 - historical relations with Russia, 64–65, 148–150
 - and Iran, 187
 - Islamic movements in, 2, 80–83, 84–88, 91–93
 - post-Soviet developments, 8–9, 11, 12
 - Russian military deployments, 129, 130–131
 - Russian national security policy, 180
 - Russian population in, 61
 - Russia’s Greater Caucasus model, 173–174
 - significance of, for Russia, 3–4
 - Soviet strategy and relations, 5
 - support for Chechnya, 80–83
 - and Turkey, 183
 - U.S. interests, 198–199
 - See also specific country*
- North Ossetia, 86, 87–88
- Nuclear weapons, 116
- Russian military doctrine, 127–128
 - and Russia’s southern border security, 168
- Ocalan, Abdallah, 185
- Oil and gas resources, 4, 203
- development of Russian national security policy, 9–10
 - Russian spending on Chechen war, 158
 - Russian–Arab cooperation, 194–195
 - Russia’s Greater Caucasus security policy, 174
 - Russia–Turkey cooperation, 184
- Omar, Mullah, 189
- Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, 142, 176, 195, 197
- Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, 194–195
- Our Home is Russia Party, 25
- Ozrokov, Zamir, 95
- Pakistan, 5, 168, 180, 193, 200
- Palestinian organizations, 193–194
- Patrushev, Nikolai, 38, 42, 45–46
- Poland, 196
- Politkovskaya, Anya, 146
- Polyakov, Konstantin, 92, 93
- Primakov, Yevgeny, 35, 58, 91, 109, 155, 191, 192
- Prisoners of war, 220–221, 222–223
- Privatization campaign, 22
- Pulikovsky, Konstantin, 152, 154
- Pushkin, Alexander, 64
- Putin administration, 153, 225
- anti-terrorism actions and policy, 204
 - appointments, 153–154
 - Chechen policies, 39–40, 43–44, 112, 119–120, 142, 154–155
 - current state of Chechen conflict, 13–14
 - future challenges, 226
 - human rights policies, 142–143
 - information management in, 145, 146–147
 - and Islamic extremist movements, 119–120, 124
 - military policy, 119–121, 141
 - national security policy, 171–175, 180

- nuclear weapons doctrine, 128
 origins of second Chechen campaign, 35–38 political significance of Chechen conflict, 1, 36, 50, 56, 58–59, 68
 response to hostage-taking in Moscow theater, 45
 and Russian Muslims, 91
 Western relations, viii, 118, 195
- Qatar, 93, 191
- Raduyev, Salman, 3, 24, 26, 32, 33, 98, 204
- Rakhimov, Murtaza, 91
- Rakhmonov, Emomali, 11
- Refugee populations, 179
- Religion and spirituality
 in Chechen conflict, 63
 historical development in Russian region, 4
 strains within Russian society, 60, 62–64
 trends, viii
See also Christian religions; Islam
- Rodionov, Igor, 110, 116, 122
- Rokhlin, Lev, 152, 153
- Romanov, Anatoly, 153
- Rostov, 52
- Roy, Olivier, 74–75
- Russian domestic politics
 and Dagestan invasion, 35–36
 democratization, 2–3, 105
 first Chechen campaign, 23–24, 25, 26–27, 57–58, 152–153, 154, 214–215
 and Islamic movements, 33, 91
 media influence, 66–67
 parliamentary election of 1999, 59
 post-Soviet period, 152
 presidential election of 2000, 35–36, 58–59 public opinion and knowledge of Chechen conflict, 13, 49–54, 155, 157, 164
 response to hostage-taking in Moscow theater, 45–46
 and Russian military, 105, 151–156
 significance of Chechen conflict, 1, 36, 47–48, 56, 57–59, 67–69
- Russian national security policy
 Afghanistan in, 117, 125, 161–162, 188–190
 alliances in Central Asia, 160–161, 177–178
 China in, 206–207
 current challenges, 225–228
 and drug trade, 178
 Eurasianist model, 201–203
 future challenges, 4, 165, 180, 207
 Greater Caucasus model, 173–174
 Iran, 186–188
 Islam and, 12, 77–78, 100–101, 180–182
 military reforms, 103–106
 nuclear weapons, 127–128
 perceptions of Islam and, 72, 73–74, 124, 166, 167, 168, 193
 post-Soviet development, 7–12, 114–115, 162–163
 private actors in, 171
 Putin administration, 171–175, 180
 relations with Arab world, 190–191, 192–195 significance of Chechen conflict, vii–ix, 1–4, 13–14, 103, 104–106, 132 significance of southern border, 3–4 southern strategy, 166–168, 206–207

- Turkey in, 182–185
and United Nations, 197–198
Yeltsin administration,
115–116, 171
See also Military, Russian; Russia's
regional relations
- Russian National Unity Party, 143
- Russia's regional relations
current state, 225–228
ethnic strains, 60–62, 68
historical development, 4–12
neo-Eurasianist model, 201–203
revisionist history of Caucasian–
Russian relations, 148–151
significance of Chechen conflict, 1–2, 2–3, 54–56, 168–178
support for military operations, 159–162
and Turkey, 182–184
See also Chechen–Russian conflict; Russian national security policy
- Russia–U.S. relations. See U.S.–
Russian relations
- Rutskoi, Alexander, 152
- Rybkin, Ivan, 116, 135
- Saidov, Abdrashid, 35
- Salafiya, 84–88
- Saudi Arabia, 5, 92, 180, 190, 191, 192–193, 200
- Semenov, Vladimir, 85
- September 11 terrorist attacks in U.S., viii, 2, 63–64, 76, 118, 203, 204, 226
- Sergeyev, Igor, 110–111, 114, 118, 199
- Shafiyism, 84
- Shakhrai, Sergei, 18
- Shakkum, Martin, 201
- Shamanov, Vladimir, 143, 152, 154
- Shamil, Imam, 34, 77
- Shanghai Cooperation Organization, 206
- Shaposhnikov, Yevegeni, 128
- Shariah, 31, 32, 71, 75, 84
- Shaymiev, Mintimer, 8, 16, 56, 58, 90–91
- Shevardnadze, Eduard, 123, 124, 172–173
- Shevtsova, Lilia, 25
- Shogenov, Hachim, 86, 87
- Shpigun, Gennadi, 111
- Sitnov, Anatoly, 138
- Skakunov, Eduard, 87–88
- Snegirev, Yuri, 86
- Sociocultural traditions and values
fundamental Islamism, 31
origins of Chechen conflict, 15–16
Russian bias against Caucasian peoples, 60–62, 64–65
violent conflict in Chechnya, 21
- Solzhenitsyn, Alexander, 53
- Soslambekov, Yusuf, 20
- South Caucasus, 99–101, 169
Russia's Greater Caucasus model, 173–174
- South Ossetia, 130, 172
- Southern border of Russian Federation
delineation and protection of national borders, 132–133
demographic trends, 11
drug trade, 178
future prospects, 207, 226–228
historical development, 4–12
Islamic movements, 166, 167, 168, 174–175
national security significance, viii, 119–120, 206–207
post-Soviet period, 7
public opinion of Chechen
conflict, 52–53

- Russian military deployment patterns, 128–132
- Russian national security policy, 104, 117–118, 120–121, 168–178
- significance of, for Russia, 3–4, 48, 165
- threat development in, 166–168
- U.S. policy and relations, 170, 172, 174–175
- See also specific country*
- Soviet Union, 5–7, 15–16, 79, 152
- Stalin, 5, 16
- Stashevsky, Feliks, 171
- Stavropol, 52, 53
- Stepashin, Sergei, 24, 111–112, 113, 153, 155
- Suez crisis, 5
- Sufism, 84
- Syria, 5, 191
- Taiwan, 205
- Tajikistan, 4, 8, 11, 12, 88, 113, 140, 159–160, 166, 195
 - drug trade in, 178
 - emigration patterns, 179
 - military capacity, 161
 - regional alliances and cooperation, 170, 174, 176
 - Russian population, 179
 - Russian security policy, 120–121, 129, 130, 133
- Talboyev, Magomet, 85
- Tarekat Islam, 31
- Tatarstan, 4, 8, 12, 16, 18, 54, 55, 56, 90–91
- Terrorism and anti-terrorist efforts
 - Chechen conflict and, 2, 3, 46, 63–64, 122–123
 - developments in Chechnya between wars, 13
 - hostage-taking in Moscow theater, 45–46
 - Moscow apartment bombing, 36, 58, 64
 - Moscow theater hostage crisis, 2, 114
 - Russian military-political alliances in Central Asia, 160–161, 174, 176–177
 - Russian national security planning, 167, 203–204
 - Russian public opinion, 69, 71
 - Russia–Western relations and, viii, 2, 63–64, 200, 203–205
 - U.S. campaign, 12
 - See also* September 11 terrorist attacks in U.S.
- Tishkov, Valery, 61
- Tolstoy, Leo, 64, 65
- Totsky, Konstantin, 160
- Troshev, Gennady, 143, 152, 154
- Turkey, 5, 9, 117, 180, 182, 200, 203, 228
 - and Islam, 184–185
 - Russian economic relations, 184–185
 - Russian national security concerns, 182–184
 - Russian national security policy, 128, 129, 130, 173–174
- Turkmenistan, 4, 11, 68, 203
 - armed forces, 177
 - Russian security policy, 131, 174, 175
- Tuva, 47, 54
- Udugov, Movladi, 30, 66, 82, 183
- Ukraine, 7, 10, 11, 196
 - regional alliances and cooperation, 170
 - Russian national security policy, 175

- United Arab Emirates, 190, 191, 192, 200
- United Nations, 197–198
- United States, 209–210
 antiterrorism campaign, 12, 44
 relations with Russia's southern neighbors, 170, 172, 174–175, 177–178
 Russian public opinion, 63–64
See also U.S.–Russian relations
- Unity Party, 35, 59, 91
- U.S.–Russian relations, 203
 Afghanistan policies, 152, 168 anti-terror efforts and, viii, 2, 3, 12, 200, 203–205 and Chechen conflict, 198–200, 203
 during first Chechen campaign, 115, 116
 future prospects, 226
 and Islamic extremism, 73, 78–79
 Middle Eastern policies, 202
 oil trade, 194–195
 Putin administration, 118
- Uzbekistan, 4, 11, 98, 99, 205–206
 armed forces, 177
 regional alliances and cooperation, 170, 174, 176
 Russian security policy, 120–121, 129, 131, 159–160
- Vachagayev, Mayrbek, 16
- Volgograd, 52
- Volsky, Arkady, 38
- Vorobyov, Eduard, 152
- Wahhabis, 30, 31, 84, 85–88, 192–193
 compensation for converts to, 95–96
 in Dagestan, 82–83
 in South Caucasus, 99–100
- See also* Islamic extremism
- World High Council for Mosques, 92
- World Islamic Appeal League, 92
- World Islamic League, 92
- Yabloko Party, 26
- Yakovlev, Vladimir, 58
- Yakutia, 54
- Yandarbiev, Zelimkhan, 27, 30, 31, 32, 34, 192
- Yastrzhemsky, Sergei, 123
- Yavlinsky, Grigory, 26
- Yedinstvo. See Unity Party
- Yegorov, Nikolai, 24, 154
- Yelagin, Vladimir, 40–41
- Yeltsin administration, 1, 9, 10–11, 35, 113, 145–146, 152, 153, 198, 199
 Chechen policy, 17–18, 19, 27–28, 142
 Chechnya reconstruction funds, 37–38 coup attempt, 20
 first campaign in Chechnya, 21–27, 57–58
 military reforms, 103–104, 107–108, 110–111, 116, 134
 national security policy, 115–116, 167, 171
 public opinion on Chechen war, 50 response to Dagestan invasion, 112
- Yemen, 5, 200
- Yerin, Viktor, 24
- Yermolov, Alexei, 139
- Yusupov, M., 36
- Zakayev, Ahmed, 44
- Zavgayev, Doku, 25
- Zhirinovskiy, Vladimir, 22, 143, 185
- Zyuganov, 28