

TAKE TWO: IRAN'S PLAN FOR NUCLEAR COMPLIANCE

Note: This depiction contrasts INFCIRC/711, which includes Iran's understanding of the timeline for resolving outstanding nuclear issues, and GOV/2008/4, which reports on Iran's implementation of the established work plan.

*The IAEA first reported the existence of uranium metal in Iran's nuclear fuel cycle in November 2005, but this issue remains outstanding.

**According to the IAEA, Iran reiterated that the allegations were "baseless" and "fabricated" and has yet to respond to the Agency's February 15 request for a further meeting to present additional documentation from member states.
